

ANTHONY T.H. CHIN Ph.D.

Prior to his return to Department of Economics at NUS in July 2004, Associate Professor Chin was appointed as Lead Economist in the Economist Service at the Ministry of Trade and Industry. A NUS Overseas Merit Scholar, he completed his Ph.D. at Macquarie University, Australia in discrete continuous choice methods. He is currently a member of the Public Transport Council and the Government Parliamentary Committee on Transport in Singapore and a Fellow of AirNeth of the Netherlands.

His areas of specialization include, urban, housing and location economics; consumer choice behaviour; evaluation, financing and privatization of infrastructure; demand management and strategic planning of transportation hubs; and the economics of crime and personnel security with particular focus on deception, deterrence and detection.

He has contributed widely with articles in academic journals and papers in reputable academic conferences and a member of several international committees and is currently Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of Logistics and Sustainable Transport of the European Society of Logistics and Sustainable Transport.